EUSTORY in Slovakia – 6th Round 2009/2010

After the previous Slovak Eustory competition organiser Jan Hus Educational Foundation from Bratislava has stopped to be functional in spring 2009, the Slovak Centre for Communication and Development, n.o - a new Eustory AISBL member organisation - continues to carry out the competition in Slovakia.

Thus in October 2009 the SCCD launched the sixth round of Eustory history competition in Slovakia under the topic

Migration of Slovak Citizens in the 20th Century

The competition has run under the patronage of PaedDr. Rastislav Púdelka, the general Director of the Slovak National Museum.

The new competition topic was announced at the end of October 2009 to over 255 secondary schools in Slovakia via e-mail, newspapers for teachers, phone calls or personal visits, through the network of local partners and informational meetings of coordinator Olga Peštuková with history teachers at the Methodical and Pedagogical Centre of Bratislava and the State Pedagogical Institute. Promotional Eustory posters have been distributed to involved schools and institutions.

During the whole round JHEF had a close cooperation with Slovak Eustory National Partners Network - Methodical and Pedagogical Center of Bratislava, UNESCO Center, Historical and Ethnological Institute of the Slovak Academy of Science, State Pedagogical Institution, Nation's Memory Institute, City Institute for Monuments Preservation, Slovak National Museum, teachers from universities and secondary schools, etc.). A few newspaper articles about Eustory competition have been published (e.g. in „História“ Journal of the Slovak Academy of Science, in “Učiteľské noviny (Teachers' Newspaper), etc).

96 students from all over Slovakia have been participating in the competition with 56 entries – 42 individual and 14 group researches.

The main aim of researches has been to describe and record various destinies of people in different regions, cities or villages of Slovakia in the period of migration waves of 20th Century. In their entries the students mostly dealt with migration history of individuals or groups of persons who (from different reasons) have experienced migration on their own. To explain the circumstances and economic, social or political reasons for migration, the students have chosen wider - Slovak, Czecho-slovak, European or sometimes even worldwide approach to migration process. The entries have been mostly focused on migration events of supraregional, national or international character.
